RE: Consent form for possible local press exposure

Dear parent/guardian,

LifeGames Books is an educational publisher specialising in the area of promoting social skills and emotional intelligence among primary level students. Our newly launched educational product 'LifeGames' is designed to help teachers impart useful life lessons through the medium of games.

Your child's teacher at ..... has volunteered to send us imagery and feedback of the class taking part in LifeGames activities on ....., which may then be published in local press.

But of course we need your consent as well. Would you be kind enough to complete and return this consent form to allow us to use imagery and feedback from your child's class in our promotional materials, including possible local press exposure?

We thank you for your kind assistance in what we hope can be a real game-changing educational product to help give our children better tools for life – and have fun in the process!
